

#9 August 2022

The summer months can be a really good time to reflect and pause and think ahead towards the end of the year. It's our opportunity to set about achieving everything we planned for the year. Of course if you work in the Academic sector you'll be gearing up to welcome new and existing students back in to your library spaces. There are different ways that Nexbib can support you to achieve your goals, find out more in this month's newsletter...

Good things happen when we meet face-to-face

Over the last few months I have been out and about visiting both Public and Academic libraries across the country. Having the opportunity to meet face-to-face again, talk openly and hear more about the challenges facing libraries right now has been really powerful.

As a non-librarian, library specialist I have a unique perspective that I can share. At Nexbib our goal is to help you do with more with what you've got, protecting the investment you have made in your current library infrastructure, identify quick wins and opportunities for improving your library's efficiencies.

If you would like a no obligation discussion about your library and achieving your goals for the future then do get in touch.

Certificate for Wakefield

It was great to meet with Sue Eustace, Libraries Manager and Liz Whitworth, Customer Services Supervisor for libraries at Pontefract Library last month and a great opportunity to drop off their certificate for Best Jubilee Display!

Well done!

PRODUCT FOCUS

Introducing the Nex.Kiosk Nordic

In the first of our Product Focus features we'd like to introduce you to the Nordic Self Service RFID Library. Designed to be installed to suit your library you can select the orientation of the flat touch screen and the RFID shelf and choose between either free standing or table top versions. If you are looking at self-service for your library or refreshing your existing options please get in touch and we can discuss your needs.

Library fines...

We're continuing our survey on whether library fines are in force in your library service now and in the future...

YES, we issue fines

NO, we do not issue fines

Thank you! We'll keep you posted on the results and continue the conversation.

Good maintenance is just good practice

This week we carried out a scheduled maintenance visit to The University of West London.

Whilst largely in great condition, we cleaned vents that had become covered in dust. Over time this would result in less effective cool airflow into the machine leading to higher temperatures and possible component failures. It can also lead to pre-emptive shutdown of the component as it gets too hot, something that we have encountered at another library. This simple cleaning is carried out as part of our maintenance support ensuring equipment keeps running smoothly.

(The bottom filter is 'before', the top filter is 'after' our clean)

Do you have service and maintenance support in place for your equipment? Avoid equipment failure and the associated expenditure by taking care of your current systems.

LinkedIn round-up

Picking up interesting stories you may have missed on LinkedIn...

With a focus on Academic libraries - I spent a great day at Liverpool Hope University taking a tour of their fantastic library. A truly inspiring space for the students of the University.

We're also delighted to have been selected by Scarborough TEC to provide their RFID Self Service Solution. It will be great to bring an improved self service solution for the students and staff, we're excited to get started.

This week I was lucky enough to have a 1-2-1 tour of the library at Liverpool Hope University. A huge thanks to subject librarian Fiona Hair for taking time to show me around. The library is rich in resources and areas dedicated to private or group study. At the centre is the garden Quad with a fountain which provides not only a great view but an excellent backdrop for the graduation photos.

I am delighted to announce that Nexbib has been selected by Scarborough TEC to provide their next RFID Self Service solution. I would like to thank Mark Beer and Emilia C. for taking time out of their day for the project meeting last week. Mark took these great images of the library while he was there!
